

Inferring

(Extension Activity)

Name
Class

Write a story that has 3 or more inferences in it.

I have given you suggestions of inferences that you can add to your story but in the end these are just suggestions however you must have inferences in your story. Please highlight the inferences in your story or put them in bold.

Please remember to check your work before submitting. Look for errors in capitalization, run-on sentences, punctuation, lack of paragraphs and other convention errors.

- Reluctant writer - 50 - 100 words

If you consider yourself a reluctant writer or do not like to write please aim for 50+ words.

- Mainstream writer - 100+ words

If you consider yourself a good writer and do not struggle please aim for 100+ words.

- Capable writer - 150 - 200 words

If you consider yourself a good writer and enjoy writing please aim for 100 - 200 words.

Include these inferences in your story. Highlight or bold them in your story so they are easy to see.

In your story write an inference that implies an emotion without actually telling the reader what that emotion is. (ex. He was jumping up and down with a big smile on his face.)

In your story write an inference that implies that something is fixed or is now working right but doesn't actually tell the reader it was ever broken.

(ex. She was startled to hear the chiming of the clock in the hall, she hadn't heard that sound in years.)

In your story write an inference that implies a time of day (morning, afternoon etc.) without telling the reader what it is.

(ex. The sky was getting darker and the dog laid down for a well deserved rest.)

Note: You do not have to use the above inferences if you have your own ideas but you must have inferences in your story. Please highlight them or put them in bold.

Write your story here:
